Outdoor education provider plans to restructure as a debtor in possession

8 January 2025 · Hannover · Business Area: Restructuring

erlebnistage gGmbH is repositioning itself strategically for the future. It is aiming to achieve a sustainable restructuring that will secure its long-term competitiveness and future viability. To this end, the company filed for debtor-in-possession proceedings. The Local Court of Goslar assented to this application and ordered provisional proceedings on 19 December 2024.

Debtor-in-possession proceedings are in-court restructuring proceedings to rescue and rehabilitate financially distressed companies. Management remains in charge and guides the company concerned through the proceedings itself with support from external experts. Restructuring experts Mr Philip Konen and Mr Ludwig Stern from PLUTA Rechtsanwalts GmbH have been appointed general agents. Their task is to support and implement the restructuring process. They are assisting management within the framework of the debtor-in-possession proceedings. The court has appointed Mr Tobias Hartwig from law firm Schultze & Braun as provisional insolvency monitor. His role is to supervise the proceedings in the interests of creditors.

has specialised in outdoor education class and group excursions that foster sustainable education and personal development. The organisation offers unique programmes promoting activity-based and experience-driven learning at three locations – Lake Schwerin, the Harz Mountains and the Bavarian Forest.

erlebnistage gGmbH based in Braunlage is the operating company and currently employs 54 people. Their salaries are guaranteed for a period of three months thanks to specific substitute benefits provided under German insolvency law. The class and group excursions mainly take place from spring to autumn, while the winter months are considered the low season. The company has faced growing cost pressure in recent years, which has now led to a liquidity gap.

“We give young people the opportunity to experience nature, develop their personality and overcome challenges together. We really hope, therefore, that we can get our concept of outdoor education class trips on a stable economic footing with a financially strong partner. This is the only way we can keep the business going in the long term. Already at this stage, I would like to thank the whole team for their tremendous support,” said managing director Mr Holger Seidel.

“Our aim is to work out a viable solution for the company. Together with management, we have already held initial discussions with key business partners, who want to see the company remain in business. The employees have also been informed and are still committed,” said restructuring expert Mr Philip Konen.
